

OFFICE OF THE INDEPENDENT POLICE MONITOR

MONTHLY COMMUNITY REPORT February 2025

Above, the IPM talks to NOPD and LSP officers stationed at the Emergency Operations Command (EOC) during Super Bowl weekend.

Transparency. Accountability. Respect.

LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY

Dear New Orleans Community,

From the Super Bowl to Mardi Gras, New Orleans has experienced two SEAR 1 events in one month and the Office of the Independent Police Monitor was busy.

First, an update on the Bourbon Street terrorism attack, in January, the OIPM reported that 120 officers who were working the French Quarter are going through debriefings and receiving support to cope with the trauma of that day through the Officer Assistance Program. I want to update that number. It is my understanding that as of now, 168 officers have participated in 23 debriefings, there have been countless one on ones with people who have reached out for help, and there was a Captain present - Captain Watson - at every debriefing to communicate rank's support to the officers and the importance of the debriefings. The OIPM thanks Captain Watson and the whole Officer Assistance Program (OAP) team for their work supporting these officers. If you or someone you know think you may need assistance after the NYE attack, please call (504) 355-0846 to reach the Hub Family Assistance Center. You can access wraparound free trauma recovery care from Seeds of NOLA at (504) 702-4335. Please visit crimesurvivorsnola.org for more information.

This month, the Super Bowl and Mardi Gras was in full swing. The OIPM continued to monitor the interactions between the NOPD and the multiple other law enforcement agencies in the city as they provided public safety services in the French Quarter for the Super Bowl and on parade routes and the 8th District for Mardi Gras. The IPM participated in public safety walks, "walking the beat," with leadership during both the Super Bowl and Mardi Gras. During these walks, the IPM monitored how NOPD leadership identifies safety risks, checks police coverage, engages with the community, and looks for potential quality of life challenges such as traffic flow. The IPM also went to the Real Time Crime Camera Center (RTCC) and the Emergency Operations Command (EOC) to see how partner agencies and city departments work together to ensure public safety from a centralized locations. The OIPM is always seeking feedback from the public so please let us know how you think the NOPD performed during the Super Bowl and this Carnival Season - the positive and the negative. All feedback is constructive and informative so let us know. We thank everyone in the community who tagged the OIPM in videos and photos of officer interactions that you wanted us to review.

Days before the Super Bowl, there was an Officer Involved Shooting (OIS) that the OIPM responded to and monitored. The OIPM notes that the NOPD released all footage from the incident to the public without delay and the matter is under investigation for any force used.

Finally, please continue to tune in to the Monitor's Mic on Fridays at noon on WBOK 1230AM to learn more about oversight, policing, and community issues.

Thank you, Stella Ciment

ACHIEVEMENTS, UPDATES, & WORK

Monitoring Super Bowl

In February, the city of New Orleans hosted the Super Bowl and the NOPD worked in conjunction with federal, state, and local partners and law enforcement to ensure public safety - while the OIPM monitored and informed the public of all related law enforcement actions being taken.

During Super Bowl weekend, the IPM joined a Deputy Chief and some sergeants to “walk the beat” in the 8th District to monitor and observe the safety protocols put into place. The IPM watched the operations of the checkpoints around Bourbon Street, then checked in with 8th District leadership at the station. Next, the IPM went to the Real Time Crime Camera Center (RTCC) to watch how the NOPD’s operations were being implemented via hundreds of camera angles. Afterwards, the IPM went to the Emergency Operations Command (EOC) to speak with the Louisiana State Trooper and NOPD officer assigned to the EOC.

As a note, this officer assigned at the EOC was able to also observe the Officer Involved Shooting (OIS) from the night before during which a sergeant was struck by a car and ensure the video footage of the event was quickly pulled for the subsequent Force Investigation Team investigation.

The IPM did not observe any arrests in progress, but learned later that over the Super Bowl weekend there was minimal crime and arrests:

- Thirteen (13) people were arrested on weapon charges. Ten (10) for illegally carrying while in an Alcohol Beverage Outlet (ABO). Six (6) of those arrests were within the French Quarter
- Seven (7) crimes occurred against persons
- There were sixty (60) property crimes and forty (40) of those were for theft.

OIPM's Community-Police Mediation Program Awarded an AmeriCorp Fellow for 2025 - 2026 Service Year

In February, the OIPM learned that we were approved as a site for an AmeriCorp Fellowship and we will be awarded an AmeriCorp fellow for the 2025-2026 year. This AmeriCorp service year is coordinated in conjunction with our partners at the Community Mediation National Corps. Our selected fellow will be trained in Maryland by the Community Mediation National Corps before being assigned to our host site for the service year. We look forward to hosting this fellow for the service year and continuing to grow our Community-Police Mediation Program! This fellow will assist with the pilot program for the Community-Based Mediation and furthering the Post-Investigation Mediation that the OIPM formally started in 2024.

ACHIEVEMENTS, UPDATES, & WORK

NOPD Promotions

On Friday, February 7th, U.S. District Judge Susie Morgan issued an order affirming the integrity of the NOPD's promotional examination process. This order was issued after the completion of multiple investigations into the allegations of cheating or bias during the promotional process and all of which found there was no bias, cheating, or other wrongdoing present. The OIPM monitored the different phases of the scoring of the candidates for promotion, both by the Deputy Chiefs and by the outside assessors brought into the department to reevaluate and score the candidates, and did not observe any deviations from policy or any wrongdoing.

With this, Kirkpatrick said, the promotions process will move forward.

- Promoted from Chief Deputy Superintendent to Assistant Superintendent - Hans Ganthier
- Promoted from Captain to Major - Precious Banks, Lejon Roberts
- Promoted from Lieutenant to Captain - Rebecca Gubert, Samuel Palumbo Jr.
- Promoted from Sergeant to Lieutenant - Michael Guasco, Thaddeus Murray
- Promoted from Senior Police Officer to Sergeant - Marylou Agustin, Tanisha Sykes-Smith, Michael Haynes, Jesse Roger

These newly promoted officers' new assignments will be announced in the coming days.

In addition, Superintendent Kirkpatrick announced the following appointments regarding NOPD executive leadership:

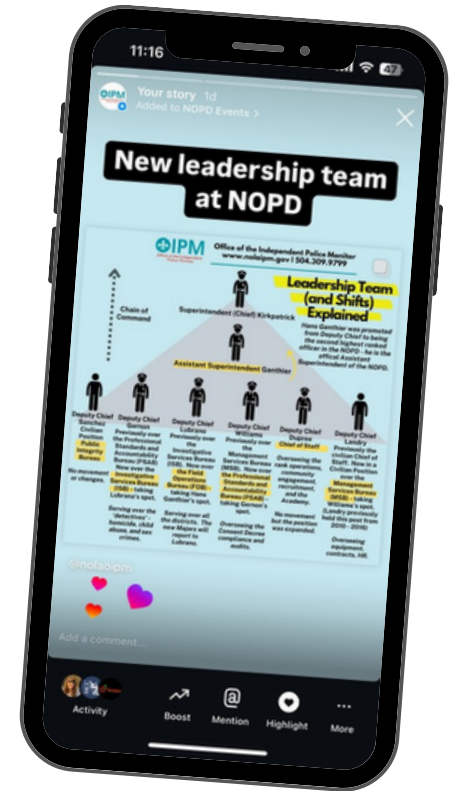

- Deputy Superintendent Ryan Lubrano will assume command over the Field Operations Bureau
- Deputy Superintendent Nicholas Gernon will assume command over the Investigation and Support Bureau
- Deputy Superintendent Jonette Williams will assume command over the Professional Services and Accountability Bureau
- Stephanie Landry will move into the role of Deputy Superintendent over the Management Services Bureau

The OIPM attended the promotional ceremony for these newly promoted officers and congratulates all these leaders of the department on their new positions. The OIPM looks forward to working with these officers in their new positions moving forward.

OIPM Contracts Before City Council

On February 11, 2025, the OIPM appeared before the City Council Criminal Justice Committee to address two contracts that were before the Council for approval. One contract was for the OIPM's General Counsel: Sharonda Williams. The second contract was for an OIPM contractor who provides case review services and serves on the on-call schedule: Katherine Crouch.

After statements from the IPM, the Council immediately approved the contract for Katherine Crouch to continue to serve on the OIPM on call schedule and provide review services; but took the contract for Sharonda Williams under advisement. The OIPM believes this contract will be approved in the coming month after the Council received a letter from Sharonda Williams clarifying misinformation regarding potential conflicts in her representation of the OIPM and other entities potentially in litigation with the city.

Above is an infographic the OIPM designed explaining how the promoted officers will now appear in the chain of command within the police department.

ACHIEVEMENTS, UPDATES, & WORK

February on the Monitor's Mic

This month on the Monitor's Mic, the OIPM interviewed an interesting cross-section of guests from the courtrooms to brass bands to the police districts.

These conversations gave us the chance to dive into important issues in our community, such as the connection between culture and policing and the criminal legal system. The talks not only informed the public but also allowed experts and community leaders to share their thoughts and work toward making society fairer and stronger.

We were joined by Ethan Ellestad and Danovan Calhoun-Bettis from the Music and Cultural Coalition of New Orleans (MaCCNO), who led an insightful discussion about how police and performers interact in the French Quarter. They explored how policing, laws, and policies affect the city's lively music and cultural scene. The conversation also highlighted the important work MaCCNO does to support local musicians and performers and the need to protect New Orleans' unique cultural traditions.

The Honorable Marcus DeLarge of Section K, Criminal District Court, provided a clear explanation of the criminal legal system and policing in New Orleans from a judge's perspective. Judge DeLarge talked about what judges can and can't do and their key role in holding police officers accountable. He also emphasized the importance of community involvement, especially by serving on juries, to help make the justice system stronger.

The next week, representatives from Citizen's Organization for Police Support of the 8th District (COPS8), BB St. Roman and Jessica Dietz joined us. Jessica and BB explained the importance of community-based efforts to support the police department and the impact that these organizations can have on the police and, by extension, public safety. It was informative to learn how citizens can help the 8th District and the Mounted Police Unit through hot meals, funding for equipment and training opportunities, and appreciation.

Sarah Omojola, the Director of Vera Louisiana, came on the Monitor's Mic for a very informative conversation about how crime and violence follow disinvestment in our communities. Sarah explained the important initiatives and data analysis the Vera Institute has done around gun crime and 911 calls. She discussed the new initiatives that Vera helped get off the ground with the NOPD including the Mobile Social Worker program for crisis intervention to the Law Enforcement Assisted Diversion (LEAD) program. She discussed how it's the public - working together - that prevents crime and the power of collaboration with stakeholders and partners, including law enforcement, to create healthy, thriving, and safe communities for all.

We encourage you to keep tuning in, as we have some exciting guests lined in March that you won't want to miss!

WHO WE ARE

The OIPM is an independent, civilian police oversight agency created by voters in a 2008 charter referendum. Its mission is to improve police service to the community, community trust in the NOPD, and officer safety and working conditions. Since first opening its doors in August 2009, the Office of the Independent Police Monitor has been responsible for representing the community of New Orleans, providing accountability and oversight to the NOPD, and assisting in the reforms required under the Federal Consent Decree.

The OIPM is protected and required by City Charter and Ordinance. The OIPM operates through a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the City of New Orleans and the New Orleans Police Department and has distinct responsibilities outlined by ordinance. This means this office was created by the people of New Orleans to represent all people interacting with the New Orleans Police Department to improve the way our community is policed.

Ensuring Compliance and Reform

- The OIPM reviews the NOPD's policies, practices, and investigations to ensure that every action taken is compliant with local, state, and federal law, and Consent Decree reforms.
- The OIPM advises on policy, tactics, training, and supervision to ensure that the NOPD is adopting national best practice and building a nondiscriminatory, safe, effective, and respectful police department that is responsive to the needs of the community and their employees.
- The OIPM does this through monitoring, case reviews, audits, and policy recommendations.

Amplifying the Needs of the Community

- The OIPM engages with the community to ensure that they both know about our services and understand how the police department works. Through providing information, the OIPM is equipping and empowering the community to navigate police encounters safely and demand what they need.
- Provides Complaint Intake.
- Operates the Community-Police Mediation Program.
- Partners with Families Overcoming Injustice.
- Coordinates public forums and outreach opportunities for the community to provide vital input on the way they are policed.

Making the NOPD a Safer and Nondiscriminatory Workplace

- The OIPM provides recommendations and assessments to ensure that the NOPD is a safe and nondiscriminatory work place for all employees.
- The OIPM assesses supervision and training to ensure that employees are being equipped and supported.
- The OIPM meets with police associations to hear concerns from their membership.
- The OIPM monitors disciplinary hearings to ensure that discipline is consistent and nonretaliatory.
- The OIPM receives commendations and accounts of positive policing from the community.

Commendations

The OIPM is the oversight body for the New Orleans Police Department (NOPD). The OIPM provides oversight through monitoring, reviewing, and auditing police activity and data. The OIPM is responsible for conducting complaint and commendation intake, on-scene monitoring of critical incidents and uses of force, overseeing the community-officer mediation program, reviewing investigations, providing assessments, identifying patterns, and making recommendations for improved practice, policy, resource allocation, and training.

The OIPM envisions a police force where the community is a valued and respected partner in public safety and law enforcement. This is achieved through:

- Assurance of transparency, accountability, and fairness within the NOPD and in all policing practices
- Community-driven policing policy that reflects the changing and dynamic needs of New Orleanians
- Continued efforts to engage the community and collaborate with community partners
- Recruitment and retention of a police force that is representative of and responsive to the community it serves
- Utilization of de-escalation techniques and methods when responding to calls of service
- Conducting only lawful and necessary arrests free of discriminatory practices
- Thorough and effective investigations resulting in appropriate arrests and prosecutions
- Clear and professional communication with victims and witnesses of crime and all that come into contact with the NOPD
- Responsible utilization of equipment and allocation of resources
- Development of highly trained supervisors and organizational leadership
- Interactions with the public and internally within the police force that are based in mutual trust and respect

The OIPM seeks to amplify the voice of the community to ensure that all within the city – visitors and residents alike – can access police services equally and have a positive experience with officers.

Complaint

A complaint is an allegation of misconduct filed against a NOPD officer(s) by a member of a public or civilian (external) or another officer (internal). A complaint may concern an action or lack of action taken by a NOPD officer(s), an interaction with a NOPD officer, or a witnessed interaction with a NOPD officer.

Complainant

A complainant is the individual who files a complaint against a NOPD officer(s). A complainant may be generated internally (by another officer or a supervisor) or externally (by a member of a public). The complainant does not need to be personally affected by the incident.

Complaint Procedures

The OIPM does not verify the statements made during complaint intake or agree with the statements provided by the complainant. The OIPM strives to accurately capture the words, emotions, goals and narrative shared by the complainant and selects the policy, practice, or rule that each allegation of behavior / incident could have violated if determined to be true. OIPM personnel may review information in NOPD systems regarding the interaction complained of, including body worn camera video, in car camera video, electronic police reports and field interview cards. The OIPM may include information obtained from NOPD information systems in the complaint referral.

The OIPM assesses whether in the information provided should be provided confidentially or if the OIPM would recommend covert operations conducted by the Special Investigation Squad (SIS). Anything shared in this report is public information.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS

After the misconduct investigatory process, if the investigating officer sustained an allegation, then that allegation must be affirmed by NOPD leadership in order for that accused officer to be disciplined. This occurs through the disciplinary proceeding process. The disciplinary proceedings are conducted by the NOPD - either by Captains or Deputy-Chiefs. The OIPM monitors and assesses the efforts of NOPD to ensure all disciplinary investigations and proceedings are conducted in a manner that is non-retaliatory, impartial, fair, consistent, truthful, and timely in accordance with NOPD policies and law. Adjudication of misconduct is handled internally by the PIB or the Bureau of the officer / employee.

The OIPM may monitor the process conducted by the PIB or by the Bureau; however, under the MOU, there are detailed directions regarding how the OIPM is notified of investigations by the PIB and similar protocol does not currently exist for Bureaus. For that reason, the OIPM tends to be more involved with investigations and disciplinary proceedings conducted by the PIB. During every disciplinary proceeding, the OIPM remains in the room for deliberation with the NOPD leadership to give the hearing officers feedback and input. This process is how the OIPM provides our recommendations and feedback regarding the strength of the investigation, liability and risk management concerns, and areas where the policy required clarification or was being applied inconsistently. Though OIPM may provide this feedback in memorandums to the NOPD prior to the hearing or supplementing these hearings, these discussions during the deliberation process enable the NOPD to consider and digest our points before any final decision was made on the matter. These discussions are an opportunity for the OIPM to provide and receive insight into the NOPD investigation and often these comments lead to meaningful discussion with not just the hearing officers, but the assigned investigator on the case, since it was an opportunity for that investigator to explain investigatory decisions and to answer questions.

Disciplinary Proceedings - February

Total

this Month

OIPM tracks Disciplinary Proceedings based on the date notice is received from NOPD and not necessarily on when the disciplinary proceeding occurs. Additionally, this figure does not account for investigations in which multiple officers are accused, or for hearing notifications received in a prior year but rescheduled to the current month. These proceedings are often rescheduled for scheduling conflicts. Tracking by notification date allows for consistent and accurate data collection.

USE OF FORCE

Relevant Definitions

Critical Incident

Critical incidents are an internal definition that was agreed upon by the OIPM and the NOPD through the November 10, 2010 Memorandum of Understanding. This definition captures that the OIPM should be notified of deaths, certain levels of injuries, and officer involved shootings within an hour so the OIPM has the ability to monitor the on scene investigation by the Force Investigation Team. According to this shared definition, critical incidents are:

- All incidents including the use of deadly force by an NOPD officer including an Officer Involved Shooting ("OIS");
- All uses of force by an NOPD officer resulting in an injury requiring hospitalization;
- All head and neck strikes with an impact weapon, whether intentional or not;
- All other uses of forces by an NOPD officer resulting in death; and
- All deaths while the arrestee or detainee is in the custodial care of the NOPD.

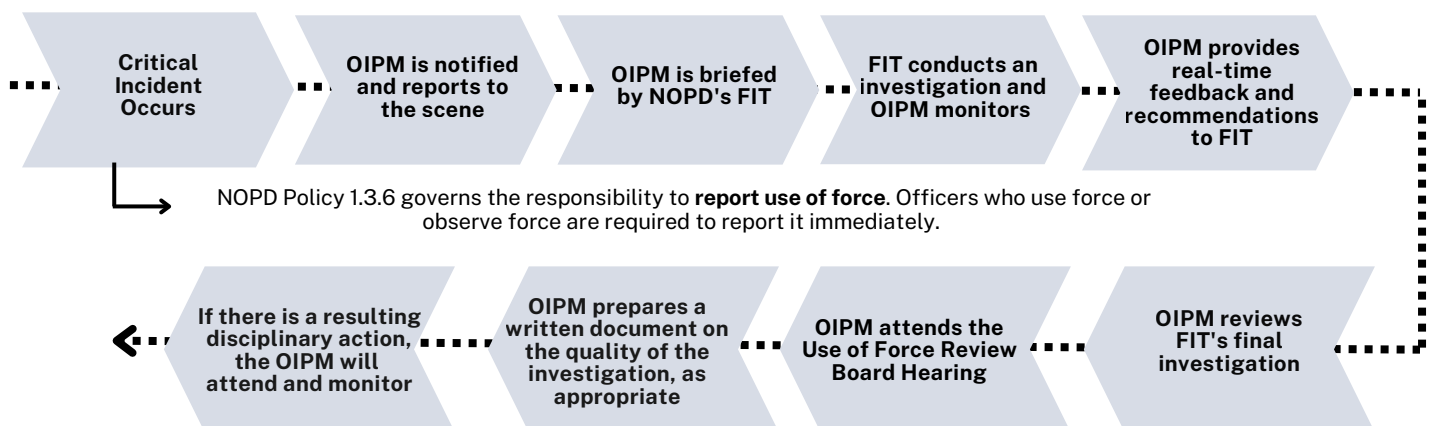

Use of Force

Use of Force is when an officer uses physical contact on an individual during a civilian-police interaction. The force can be mild to severe based on the levels of force outlined in the NOPD policy. The force may be considered justified by NOPD policy considering the facts and circumstances known to the officer at the time which would justify that appropriate physical contact based on how officers are trained to handle that interaction. Force will be assessed based on the type of contact utilized compared to the resistance encountered, resulting injuries, witness statements, officer statements, and evidence found.

Levels of Force

- Level 1: Includes pointing a firearm at a person and hand control or escort techniques (e.g., elbow grip, wrist grip, or shoulder grip) applied as pressure point compliance techniques that are not reasonably expected to cause injury; takedowns that do not result in actual injury or complaint of injury; and use of an impact weapon for non-striking purposes (e.g., prying limbs, moving or controlling a person) that does not result in actual injury or complaint of injury. It does not include escorting, touching, or handcuffing a person with minimal or no resistance.
- Level 2: Includes use of a CEW also known as "tasers" (including where a CEW is fired at a person but misses); and force that causes or could reasonably be expected to cause an injury greater than transitory pain but does not rise to a Level 3 use of force.
- Level 3: Includes any strike to the head (except for a strike with an impact weapon); use of impact weapons when contact is made (except to the head), regardless of injury; or the destruction of an animal.
- Level 4: Includes all 'serious uses of force' as listed below:
 - (a) All uses of lethal force by an NOPD officer;
 - (b) All critical firearm discharges by an NOPD officer;
 - (c) All uses of force by an NOPD officer resulting in serious physical injury or requiring hospitalization;
 - (d) All neck holds;
 - (e) All uses of force by an NOPD officer resulting in a loss of consciousness;
 - (f) All canine bites;
 - (g) More than two applications of a CEW on an individual during a single interaction, regardless of the mode or duration of the application, and whether the applications are by the same or different officers, or CEW application for 15 seconds or longer, whether continuous or consecutive;
 - (h) Any strike, blow, kick, CEW application, or similar use of force against a handcuffed subject; and
 - (i) Any vehicle pursuit resulting in death, serious physical injury or injuries requiring hospitalization.

Critical Incident / Use of Force Chain of Events

Use of Force Work

Use of Force monitoring and reviews are an opportunity for the OIPM to conduct a qualitative assessment of an investigation to ensure thoroughness, timeliness, fairness, transparency, accountability, and compliance with law, policy, and the Federal Consent Decree. The OIPM monitors and reviews the use of force, in-custody death, and critical incident investigations conducted by the Force Investigation Team (FIT) within the Public Integrity Bureau (PIB) of the NOPD. The OIPM is required by City Code § 2-1121 and by the MOU to monitor the quality and timeliness of NOPD’s investigations into use of force and in-custody deaths. The OIPM will attend the investigation or the relevant activity, and will document the activity taken and not taken by the NOPD. The expectation is that the OIPM representative does not participate in the activity, but instead observes the police actions and takes notes.

While OIPM is notified of each use of force that occurs, OIPM gives the most attention to the most serious uses of force incidents, Critical Incidents. However, OIPM will often review lower-level uses of force incidents to ensure NOPD policy is being upheld.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

The community is vital to police oversight and the center of the work conducted by the OIPM. In the Memorandum of Understanding, the OIPM committed to developing relationships with community and civil groups to receive civilian and anonymous complaints, meeting with police associations, and conduct public outreach meetings and engagement activities. In this section of the Monthly Report, the OIPM explains the community outreach and public events that the OIPM coordinated or participated in the last month.

COMMUNITY-POLICE MEDIATION

Relevant Definitions

Mediation

A mediation process helps parties develop a mutual understanding of a conflict. Mediation may help the parties identify disputed issues, facilitate communication, provide an opportunity to improve community relationships, and generate options that may help the parties reach a mutually acceptable resolution.

Consent

All parties must voluntarily agree to participate in mediation and give consent. The consent process involves communication between the participant and the Mediation Director or program staff about the mediation process, what to expect, and clarification of any questions. Consent forms are signed in advance of confirming the mediation session.

Mediator

The role of the mediator is to be a neutral and trained third party who listens, clarifies, and facilitates conversation. Mediators are non-judgmental and do not give advice, take sides, or decide who is right or wrong. Mediators do not influence or pressure participants to come to an agreement. Mediators are trained and recruited by the OIPM.

Voluntary

All participants engage in mediation at their own free will. They can end the process at any time and will not be forced to do anything or say anything they do not want to. No one is forced to agree to anything they do not want to.

What is Mediation?

Mediation is an alternative to the traditional process of resolving complaints of police officer misconduct. Mediation provides a process facilitated by two professionally-trained community mediators to create mutual understanding and allow the officer and civilian to be fully heard and understood in a non-judgmental way. Mediation creates a safe, neutral space for officers and civilians to speak for themselves, share about their interaction and how it impacted them, explain what is important to them, and come to their own agreements and solutions about moving forward.

The Public Integrity Bureau (PIB) of the NOPD determines which complaints are referred to the Mediation Program. The types of complaints that are most often referred to mediation are those that allege lack of professionalism, neglect of duty, or discourtesy.

Complaints such as unauthorized use of force, unlawful search, and criminal allegations are ineligible for mediation and continue through the formal complaint investigation process by the PIB.

Non-judgmental
Confidential
Voluntary

Mediation is:

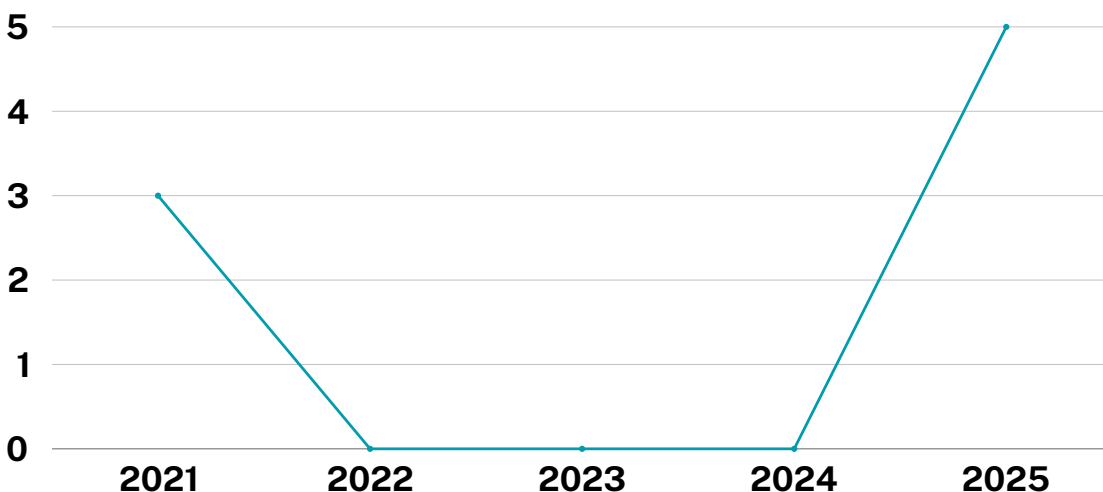

- ➔ A participant-guided process that helps the community member and the officer come to a mutually-agreeable solution. This helps to create mutual understanding and improve relationships.
- ➔ A space of discussion without the need to say who is right or wrong. No evidence is needed. The mediators are not judges. The mediators do not present their thoughts on the issue.
- ➔ It's about dialog, not forced resolutions. People are not forced to shake hands or make-up. The role of the mediators is to be neutral 3rd party facilitators. They will not pressure either participant to come to an agreement.
- ➔ An opportunity for the community member and the officer to be in charge of their own process and outcome. It will not be decided by an outside agency or person. It is outside of any punishment framework or the legal process. There is no appeal because mediation is voluntary.

CONSENT DECREE & OVERSIGHT BACKGROUND

The OIPM is providing the following information in our monthly reports as a way to keep our partners and the public informed of the role of oversight, the policing history that led to the creation of the Consent Decree, and the differences between different types of oversight.

The OIPM wants to use every opportunity available to share valuable information and historical context to our work so everyone working towards the goal of accountability, transparency, and police oversight can be equipped, informed, and engaged.

Over the year, the OIPM may add to this section additional resources and information that we assess as helpful and empowering.

LEGAL JURISDICTION; OBLIGATIONS OF THE OIPM OFFICE AND STAFF

The OIPM operates under three core legal documents that guide the scope of local oversight and the jurisdiction of our work. Additionally, below are overviews of other ordinances that affect our work and create new legal obligations on the OIPM.

New Orleans Code of Ordinances Stat. § XIV: Office of the Independent Police Monitor

This statute was created by voter referendum and provides the legal responsibilities, perimeters, and budgetary support of the OIPM. This was put to a public vote in November 2016 and passed. This statute states the responsibilities of the OIPM and requires particular work streams and tasks. The statute also describes the disclosure requirements of the office.

Louisiana Revised Stat. § 33:2339: Detail or Secondary Employment; City of New Orleans

This statute was created in 2013 and gives legal abilities and subpoena power for the OIPM to investigate allegations of misconduct in the secondary employment system operated by the Office of Police Secondary Employment. The statute is silent as to the ability for the OIPM to refer these investigations to the NOPD or the District Attorney's Office for subsequent criminal or administrative accountability based on the OIPM investigation.

Memorandum of Understanding between NOPD and OIPM Executed November 10, 2010

The MOU is a Memorandum of Understanding between the NOPD and OIPM which outlines the responsibilities, expectations, and authority of the OIPM when providing oversight to the NOPD. Through this MOU, there is clarity regarding the work the OIPM will complete and how the OIPM will access NOPD records, data, and reports and monitor NOPD during on scene investigations. The MOU was entered into in November 2010 and in the coming year the OIPM intends to work with NOPD leadership to review this agreement and determine if it should be updated to ensure it is still relevant and considers updates to technology.

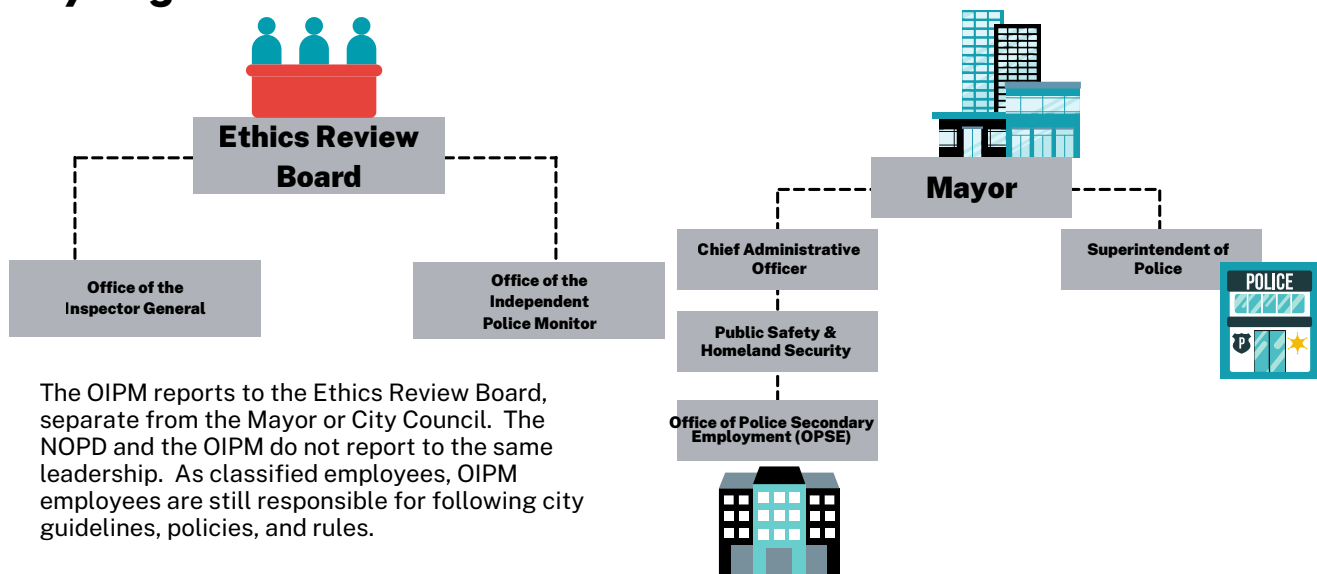

Ordinance 29130: Sharing of Data

Ordinance 29130 requires that our office (along with other public safety agencies) provide data monthly to City Council.

Ordinance 29063: Quarterly Presentations to the Criminal Justice Committee

Ordinance 29063 requires that our office (along with other public safety agencies) present quarterly to the City Council Criminal Justice Committee.

OVERSIGHT MODELS

Different Reasons Why There is Oversight / Monitors

Court Ordered

Court ordered monitors through litigation brought by the US Dept. of Justice to end "patterns and practices" of unconstitutional policing under federal law.

Consent Decree Monitors

Monitors that are the result of federal Consent Decrees.

Oversight Agencies

Oversight agency like civilian oversight that is responsible for review, auditing, or investigation.

New Orleans has both of these types of oversight

Models of Civilian Oversight

Review-Focused Model

Review-Focused models tend to utilize volunteer boards and commissions.

- Review-focused models assess the quality of finalized investigations conducted by an internal affairs division or the police department
- Conduct reviews of the agency's policies, procedures and disciplinary proceedings.
- Hold public forums, hear appeals, or make recommendations for investigations regarding allegations of misconduct

OIPM reviews the quality of finalized investigations conducted by the Public Integrity Bureau (which is the internal affairs of the NOPD)

Investigative-Focused Model

Investigative-focused models will employ professionally trained staff

- Investigative-Focused Conduct independent misconduct investigations
- Operate as an intake site for complaints.
- These models may: mediate complaints, analyze policies and practices issue recommendations to the police and public.

OIPM is a complaint intake site and OIPM has investigatory power over the secondary employment office.

Auditor / Monitor-Focused

- Auditor / Monitor-Focused model assesses systemic reform efforts.
- Review processes, evaluate policies, practices, and training. Based on those assessments, this oversight model will identify patterns and make recommendations Share findings with the public.
- These oversight agencies may participate in investigations.

OIPM assesses systemic efforts and will evaluate and review policies, practices and training then provide recommendations to NOPD.

Hybrid Civilian Oversight Model

Hybrid Civilian Oversight Hybrid civilian oversight means there is one office serving functions from different models or multiple agencies in one jurisdiction which may be different models (like an advisory civilian board and the investigatory OIG).

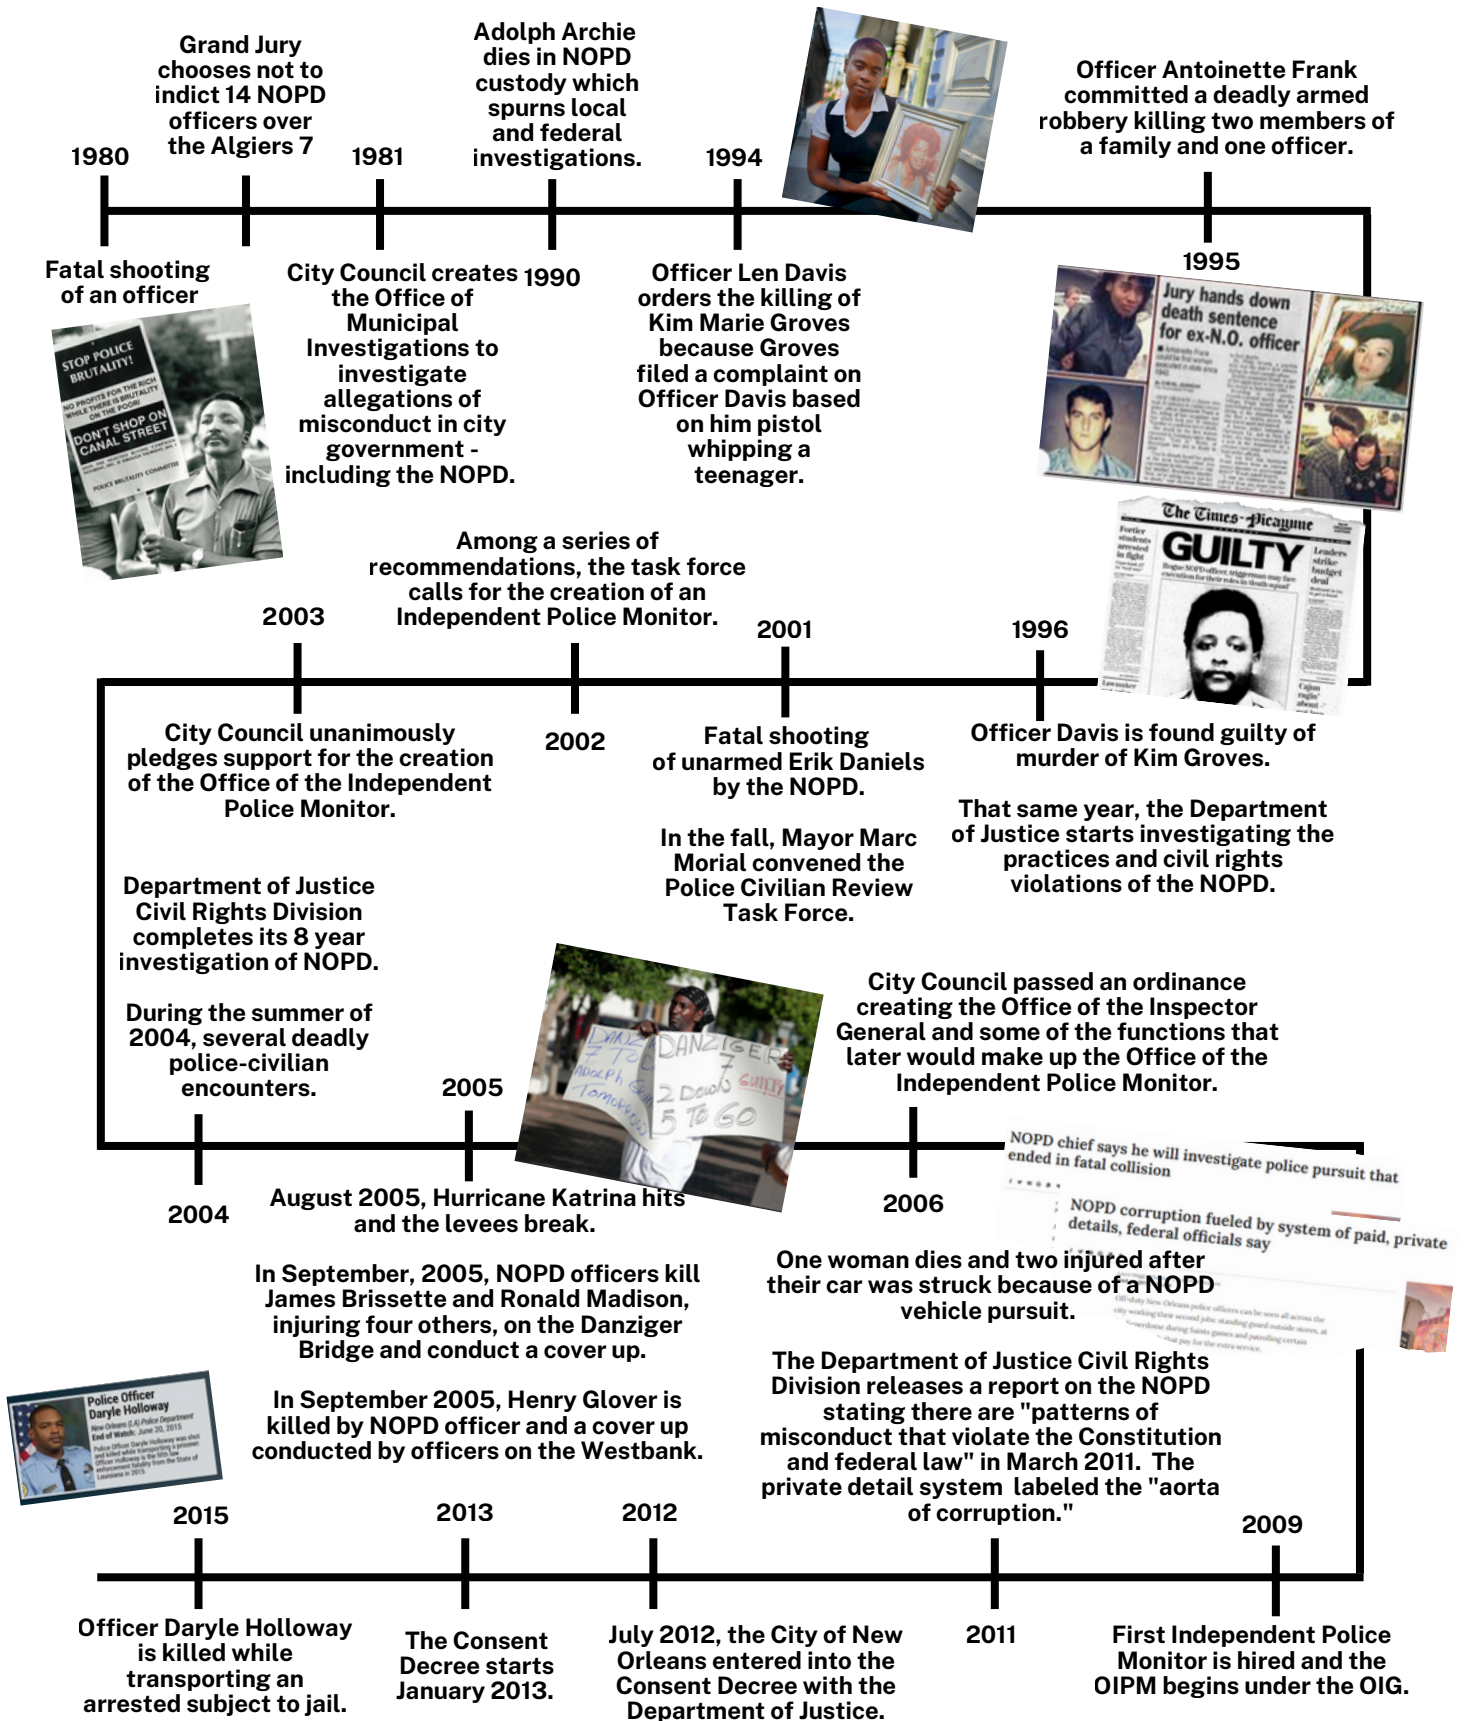

OIPM is a hybrid oversight agency because it has elements of all the different types of oversight models. Additionally, New Orleans has hybrid civilian oversight since we have multiple oversight agencies serving different functions.

13 Principles of Effective Oversight

The National Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (NACOLE) identifies these 13 principles as necessary for effective oversight. The OIPM adopted these principles:

- Independence
- Clearly defined and adequate jurisdiction and authority
- Unfettered access to records and facilities
- Access to law enforcement executives and internal affairs staff
- Full cooperation
- Sustained stakeholder support
- Adequate funding and operational resources
- Public reporting and transparency
- Policy patterns in practice analysis
- Community outreach
- Community involvement
- Confidentiality, anonymity, and protection from retaliation
- Procedural justice and legitimacy

BRIEF HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CONSENT DECREE; POLICING IN NEW ORLEANS

UNDERSTANDING THE CONSENT DECREE AND HISTORY

New Orleans entered a formal consent decree in January, 2013. This Consent Decree process started in the years prior with the investigation of the patterns and practices of the NOPD by the Department of Justice's Civil Rights Division. In order to understand the necessity of the Consent Decree and the reforms required within it, it's important to understand the historical context of the city and the NOPD's problematic behavior within the community.

The NOPD had a long history of misconduct, violence, discriminatory practices, and corruption stemming back decades. In the 1980s was the beginning of a community effort to organize civilian based oversight of the NOPD. This effort resulted in multiple initiatives from the Office of Municipal Investigations to the Police Civilian Review Task Force to eventually the creation of the Office of the Inspector General to the Office of the Independent Police Monitor.

While these local efforts were evolving, simultaneously, the federal government was conducting ongoing investigations of the NOPD, the most recent ending in March 2011. Ultimately, the Department of Justice found that the patterns and practices of the NOPD violated the Constitution and federal law. The report identified systemic deficiencies in multiple operational and substantive areas including policy, supervision, training, discipline, accountability - all of which "led to unconstitutional discrimination, uses of force, stops, searches, and arrests." The findings of the Department of Justice may have surprised the country, but the community of New Orleans was already well aware of the violent and unchecked behavior of the NOPD and the culture of obstructionism and discrimination that existed within the department.

This shared history of policing is briefly overviewed on the next page and the OIPM included examples of the dynamics of the NOPD and the crimes committed that directly impacted the safety of the community and public trust in the police department.

The OIPM strives to acknowledge and remember those in the community who both fought for oversight and were impacted by the pain caused by the NOPD. This is why a tenant of the work completed by civilian oversight is to amplify the voice of the community. It is in that memory that the OIPM works and stays vigilant monitoring the policing occurring today because a possible backslide from compliance, depending on the severity, could result in a return to a pattern and practices of policing that was corrupt, violent, and unconstitutional.

The goal of the Consent Decree is for the reforms to be so deeply enmeshed into the operations, policies, systems, and culture of the police department that to dismantle those reforms would be easily catchable and not only cause alarm in the community but also be virtually impossible because of the changed culture and expectations within supervision and the police department.

The position of the OIPM is that New Orleans must own our history with the police. Our history informs our fears. This is why there is a fear of history repeating itself. In New Orleans there is a real concern of "backsliding" and a return of the "old NOPD." Our neighbors, friends, coworkers, and loved ones may have experienced injustices at the hands of the NOPD. In our recent history as a city, filing a misconduct complaint about the police could have ended with retaliation or violence, walking in an unfamiliar neighborhood may have resulted in intrusive and illegal searches, arrests were conducted with force, officers could be bought, and supervisors turned a blind eye to a culture of corruption, discrimination, and violence.

For this reason, the OIPM is sensitive of allegations or noncompliance in areas that touch on these historical problems and shared fears that may exist in our community. The OIPM will not sweep these fears under a rug, but instead ensure that these allegations are immediately prioritized and addressed:

Criminal activity or associations

Corruption

Violence

Use of Force

Receiving payouts

Field strip searches

Targeting of young African American boys

Supervisors failing to take misconduct allegations

Unauthorized pursuits

Cover-up of wrong doing and manipulation of misconduct

investigations

Discriminatory practices
